

Dear CanaDream Partner,

CanaDream are contacting you to counter some incorrect information that has unfortunately been circulated this week relating to what is acceptable in Canada as a valid driving license when renting any size of motorhome or camper.

For over 20 years CanaDream has been providing, on a national basis within Canada, a substantial fleet of Motorhomes and campers that are purpose-built to the highest standards of comfort and safety. These vehicles are readily available to International guests from all parts of Europe, as well as many other regions of the world, allowing them to experience all that Canada has to offer with no issues relating to applicable licenses at all. During this time we have been serving guests who have been driving our vehicles millions of kilometres in a safe and legal manner throughout North America. The driving area of all CanaDream's RV's are based on designs and features constructed and tested by major North American manufacturers and are totally suitable for all standards and levels of drivers and license holders.

Full consideration has, of course, always been taken by CanaDream of Canadian legislation, both national and provincial, which has for many years provided exempt status for guests possessing normal driving licenses issued from their own country that may bear a European-only vehicle weight restrictions.

We can confirm that our own Canadian insurance company is completely satisfied to provide the full and valid insurance cover that has always included vehicle insurance with a $5-million public and property damage. This insurance is openly published by us and this, of course, does take into account Canadian legislation. We are happy to advise that this coverage has and will continue to be provided by CanaDream to guests from all countries providing total piece of mind as they travel on their vacation with us, no matter what valid type of driving license they hold.

CanaDream will continue to be dedicated to providing a safe, secure range of vehicles that all guests from around the world can drive and then experience Canada at their own pace.

If you require any further information CanaDream will be happy to provide this.

For and on behalf of CanaDream

,
International Sales & Marketing Director
CanaDream RV Rentals & Sales
www.canadream.com
Phone: +44 (0) 184 